

Workshop on the Applications of Industrial Organization:
Energy and Environment

September 8 – 9, 2017

Organizers: Laura Lasio (McGill Econ), Nathan Yang (McGill Desautels), and Mario Samano (HEC Montreal)

Workshop Location: McGill Desautels, 1001 Sherbrooke O, Room 245 (second floor)

The mission of the workshop is to highlight fields of study that interface with industrial organization. For its 2017 edition, the workshop will focus on the applications of industrial organization to energy markets and the environment, and will feature the following presentations:

Mike Abito (Wharton) - Separate Markets for Externalities: Regional versus State-by-State Regulation of a Global Pollutant

Andrew Eckert (Alberta) - Carbon Pricing with an Output Subsidy under Imperfect Competition: The Case of Alberta's Restructured Electricity Market

Ken Gillingham (Yale) - Long-run Effects of Competition on Solar Photovoltaic Demand and Pricing

Erin Mansur (Darmouth) - Distributional Effects of Air Pollution from Electric Vehicle Adoption

Mar Reguant (Northwestern) - Measuring Leakage Risk

Frank Verboven (KU Leuven) - Subsidies and Myopia in Technology Adoption – Evidence from Solar Photovoltaic Systems
